

Join the United States Lactation Consultant Association (USLCA) to Refresh, Renew, and Revitalize your clinical practice.

This national conference will take place in the Texas Hill Country in San Antonio, Texas. Plans are underway to bring you the highest quality, affordable, and not-to-be-missed conference while ILCA goes out of country. USLCA presents our second and long-awaited national conference May 4-6, 2017.

EXHIBIT

Spotlight your products and services and engage hundreds of lactation professionals influencing purchasing decisions in both community and healthcare settings around the United States as well as globally.

ADVERTISE

Can't make it to the conference or just want to make the most of your exposure? Check out a wide variety of advertising opportunities at USLCA's 2017 conference. New Horizons in Clinical Lactation offers a wide variety of advertising opportunities to fit your company's needs and goals.

SPONSOR

Catch the excitement and take this valuable opportunity to support USLCA by becoming a conference sponsor. All those who sign on as sponsors prior to April 1, 2017, will be featured on our website.

PRESENT

Our members are experts in the field of lactation! Do you have expertise in a certain topic that you would like to share with other USLCA members? Submit a proposal to speak at USLCA's second national conference. Don't want to speak but have some great new research? Submit an abstract of your unpublished research for our scholarly poster session. Of course, all submissions are subject to review.

VOLUNTEER

Want to be a part of the pre-planning for the conference? Or maybe you'd like to help out during the conference. Contact our conference coordinator today to get involved! Email: conference@uslca.org

ATTEND

With a full day of clinical skills and 2 ½ days of excellent speakers, this conference is sure to Refresh, Renew, and Revitalize YOUR clinical practice. Watch for early bird registration to open later this year. USLCA members receive discounts on registration.
